

Health and Wellness

Mid-Columbia Medical Center has been providing health care services for more than 100 years to The Dalles and a wide surrounding area that has adopted a broader definition of health intended to address biological, social, environmental, intellectual and spiritual needs of patients and their families.

Services:

- A comprehensive 49-bed medical center providing an array of hospital care and outpatient services through a staff of 900 employees and 50 physicians.
- Acclaimed patient-centered care through the Planetree model.
- mPower inpatient rehabilitation and comprehensive integrated therapy program.
- LEED-certified wellness center on The Dalles waterfront featuring medical fitness center, medical spa and health and lifestyle programs.
- A growing collaborative relationship with Oregon Health and Science University to expand health care options.
- Response times for getting cardiac patients from the Emergency Department to OHSU surgery at or below Portland response times.
- Celilo Cancer Center for convenient community cancer care options.

Other options:

- One Community Health nonprofit community and migrant health center.
- Fresenius Medical Care kidney dialysis center.
- Other fitness, physical therapy, alternative care, dental, vision, surgical, aesthetics, skilled care and assisted living centers.
